FEDERAL RESERVE BANK of NEW YORK

Purpose and General Instructions

Michael Scattereggia

What is the FR 2900?

- The FR 2900 is a weekly/quarterly report reflecting daily data (Tuesday through Monday) where Depository Institutions (DIs) report “sources of funds”
- Amounts reported on the FR 2900 include:
  - Deposits held by the DI
  - Other funds (borrowings obtained from non-exempt entities)

Where and When to Submit?

- The reports are due to the Federal Reserve by the Wednesday following the Monday as-of date via electronic submission, or signed hard copy sent by messenger or fax. (Please do not submit the same report via more than one method).

Where and When to Submit?

- Electronic submissions of these reports is available via the Internet using the IESUB application
- See the Reporting Central section of the FRB Services website: <http://www.frbervices.org/centralbank/reportingcentral/index.html>

The Purpose of the FR 2900

- The FR 2900 has two primary purposes:
  - a) The calculation of money stock
  - b) The calculation of reserve requirements

What is Money Stock (or Money Supply)?

- Money supply is the total amount of money in the economy
- Two basic measures of money published by the Federal Reserve

What is Money Stock (or Money Supply)?

M1 - $1.8 trillion

Narrowest and most liquid measure of money, comprised of:

- Currency
- Travelers checks
- Demand deposits
- Other transaction accounts (ATS, NOW accounts)

What is Money Stock (or Money Supply)?

M2 - $8.8 trillion

A broader measure. Includes, in addition to M1:

- Small denomination time deposits (less than $100,000)
- Savings deposits, including MMDAs and non-institutional money market mutual funds (MMMFs)

What is Money Stock (or Money Supply)?

- The FR 2900 is the primary source of this information, and is used to construct money stock weekly
- Aggregate FR 2900 data is published in several statistical releases, including the H.3, H.6, H.8 and in the Federal Reserve Bulletin. These releases can be found at the following address:
<http://www.federalreserve.gov/econresdata/releases/statisticsdata.htm>

What are Reserve Requirements?

- Reserve requirements are a percentage of a depository institution's (DI's) deposits (or fractional reserves) that must be held either as cash in the "vault" of the DI, on deposit at the Federal Reserve Bank, or at a correspondent bank
- Reserve requirements are one of the tools used by the Federal Reserve as a means to conduct monetary policy

What are Reserve Requirements?

- Reserves can be added to or removed from the banking system by changing the reserve ratio applied to reservable liabilities
- Other Monetary Policy tools
  - System Open Market Operations
  - Discount Window Lending

Data Analysis - Macro Level

- FRB analysts routinely analyze FR 2900 data from an aggregate perspective
  - Analysts may request additional explanations from institutions, whose data may impact specific analysis on an aggregate level

Data Analysis - Micro Level

- FR 2900 data is used by FRB staff to create weekly summaries, and for the compilation of other aggregated statistical reports.
- FRB staff may ask reporting institutions additional follow-up questions or request additional explanations.

Who Must Report?

- U. S. branches and agencies of foreign banks, and banking Edge and Agreement corporations, regardless of size, must report the FR 2900 weekly

Who Must Report?

- U. S. branches and agencies of a foreign bank located in the same state and within the same Federal Reserve District are required to submit a consolidated report of deposits to the Federal Reserve Bank in the District in which they operate (excluding any balances of the IBF)

Reporting of Edge and Agreement Corporations

- When preparing the FR 2900, deposits of offices of a banking Edge or Agreement corporation should not be aggregated with related U.S. branches and agencies of foreign banks or commercial banks
- Banking Edge and Agreement corporations are required to file separate FR 2900 reports, regardless of size

September 2011 Deposit Reporting Requirements

- Applies to all institutions except for U.S. branches and agencies of foreign banks and Edge or Agreement corporations

Exempt		Non-exempt
Net transaction accounts ≤ $10.7 million		Net transaction accounts > $10.7 million, OR M2 deposits ≥ $1.415 billion reduced reporting limit
Non-reporters	Annual Reporters	Quarterly Reporters	Weekly Reporters
Total deposits ≤ $10.7 million	Total deposits > $10.7 million	M2 deposits < $252.6 million	M2 deposits ≥ $252.6 million

Deposit Reporting Requirements

Question

- Bank A has net transaction accounts equaling $10.2 million, and M2 deposits, totaling $1.6 billion. Based on the 2011 Deposit Reporting Requirements, which report would the institution be required to submit?

Deposit Reporting Requirements

Answer

- Bank A would be required to report the weekly FR 2900 report, although their net transaction accounts are less than $10.7 million. This is because, Bank A's M2 deposits exceed the $1.415 billion reduced reporting limit.

Who Must Report?

- FR 2900 weekly: commercial banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions
  - M2 deposits above the “nonexempt deposit cutoff” and “net transaction accounts” above the indexed level, or
  - M2 deposits above the “reduced reporting limit”, regardless of the level of “net transaction accounts”

Who Must Report?

- FR 2900 quarterly: commercial banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions
  - M2 deposits below the “nonexempt deposit cutoff”, and “net transaction accounts” above the indexed level

Who Must Report?

- FR 2910a: commercial banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions
  - M2 deposits between the “exemption amount” and below the “reduced reporting limit”, and “net transaction accounts” below the indexed level

FR 2900 vs. FFIEC 002 - Definitional Differences

FFIEC 002

- U.S. branches and agencies in the same Federal Reserve District and state are not required to consolidate, but may submit a consolidated FFIEC 002 provided:
  - The offices are located in the same city and insured and uninsured branches are not combined

FR 2900 vs. FFIEC 031/041 - Definitional Differences

- Consolidation of domestic branches and subsidiaries

  - Offices of the same foreign (direct) parent bank
- For all other institutions
  - Foreign (non-U.S.) branches

Reporting of Related Institutions

- Deposits due to or due from U.S. branches and agencies of the same (direct) parent bank should be excluded from the FR 2900
- Deposits due to or due from non-U.S. branches and agencies of the same foreign (direct) parent bank should be reported in Schedule CC

Foreign Bank Organization Chart

Bank Holding Company Organization Chart

Affiliates and Subsidiaries

- Affiliates and subsidiaries of the same (direct) parent bank should be treated as unrelated for purposes of Regulation D
- Deposits from these entities should be classified on the FR 2900 according to the type of entity (e.g., banking or nonbanking) and maturity

33

FR 2900 vs. FFIEC 002 - Definitional Difference

FR 2900

Close of Business

- The term “close of business” refers to the cut-off time for posting transactions to the General Ledger (G/L) for that day.
- The time should be reasonable and applied consistently.

Close of Business

- Selective posting is prohibited
  - A debit or credit cannot be made without the offsetting transaction being posted; and
  - All transactions occurring during the period of time the books are open must be posted

Back-valuing vs. Misposting

- The FR 2900 should reflect only the G/L balance as of the “close of business” each day
- Balances should be reflected on the FR 2900 based on:
  - When an institution has received or sent funds and
  - The institution has a liability to make payment to a customer/third party

Back-valuing vs. Misposting

- Balances should be reported as of “close of business”, regardless of when the transaction should have occurred.

Back-valuing vs. Misposting

- An institution is allowed to back-value only in the case of a clerical bookkeeping error.
- The FR 2900 may be adjusted to more accurately reflect the transaction as it should have been recorded.

Back-valuing vs. Misposting

- For significant post-closing adjustments, DIs should review their reports to determine whether revisions are required for additional as-of dates.

Back-valuing vs. Misposting - Examples

Question 1

On day 1, Bank R receives a $10 million demand deposit for the credit of Corporation A. However, due to a misposting error, Corporation A was credited $1 million. On day 2, the error was discovered.

How should this be reported ?

Back-valuing vs. Misposting - Examples

Answer

When the error is discovered on day 2, Bank R should revise the $1 million misposted on day 1 to reflect the $10 million deposit from Corporation A received on day 1. Thus, $10 million should be reported in Line A.1.c on both days.

Back-valuing vs. Misposting - Examples

Question 2

On day 1, Bank R borrows $5 million from Bank S. However, Bank S erroneously sends $15 million.

How should these funds be reported ?

Back-valuing vs. Misposting - Examples

Answer

On day 1, Bank R does not report the $5 million borrowing it receives, on the FR 2900. The $10 million Bank R receives in error should be reported in Line A.1.a as “Due to banks”.

Back-valuing vs. Misposting - Examples

Answer

Bank R should exclude the $10 million sent in error from Line A.1.a when those funds are returned to Bank S.

Holiday Activity/Reporting

- Institutions that post to their general ledger on Saturdays, Sundays, and/or holidays should report these balances on the FR 2900 for these days. Both debit and credit entries for each transaction must be recorded on the official books and recorded on the same day in order to be reported on the FR 2900; otherwise, the preceding day's balances are reported.

Reporting of Deposits in Foreign Currencies

- Transactions denominated in non-U.S. currency must be valued in U.S. dollars each reporting week by using one of the following methods:
  - The exchange rate prevailing on the Tuesday that begins the 7-day reporting week; or
  - The exchange rate prevailing on each corresponding day of the reporting week

Reporting of Deposits in Foreign Currencies

- Once a DI selects a method it must use that method consistently over time for all Federal Reserve reports.
- If the DI chooses to change its valuation method, the change must be applied to all Federal Reserve reports and used consistently thereafter
- The Federal Reserve Bank of New York should be notified of any such change

Quarterly Report of Foreign (Non-U.S.) Currency Deposits (FR 2915)

- In addition, FR 2900 respondents holding foreign currency denominated deposits must file the Report of Foreign (Non-U.S.) Currency Deposits (FR 2915)
- This report is filed quarterly, and it includes weekly averages for selected items from the FR 2900

Deposits from U.S. Residents Payable at an Office Located Outside the U.S.

Regulation D defines "U.S." as:

- Any individual residing in the U.S. (at the time of the deposit)
- Any corporation, partnership, association or other entity organized in the U.S. (domestic corporation)
- Any branch or office located in the U.S. of any entity not organized in the U.S.

Deposits from U.S. Residents Payable at an Office Located Outside the U.S.

- Regulation D exempts from reserve requirements “any deposit payable solely at an office located outside the U.S.”
- “Any deposit payable only outside the U.S.” means:
  - The depositor is entitled, under the agreement with the institution, to demand payment only outside the U.S., and
  - If the depositor is a U.S. resident, the deposit must be in a denomination of $100 thousand or more

U.S. Resident Deposits Less than $100,000 Payable at an Office Located Outside the U.S.

- Regulation D does not exempt any deposit of a U.S. resident in denominations of less than $100 thousand, payable at an office outside the U.S.

U.S. Resident Deposits Less than $100,000 Payable at an Office Located Outside the U.S.

- Therefore, these deposits must be reported on the FR 2900 if your institution:
  - Solicits these deposits from U.S. residents and the ultimate liability of these deposits is with the parent or any other office of the parent located outside of the U.S.

U.S. Resident Deposits Less than $100,000 Payable at an Office Located Outside the U.S.

Question 1

Bank A, NY branch receives $80 thousand from Comp. A in the U.S. Bank A, NY branch transfers the $80 thousand to Bank A, Tokyo branch for the credit of Comp. A.

How should this transaction be reported?

Answer: The transaction should be reported as a deposit on the FR 2900.

U.S. Resident Deposits Less than $100,000 Payable at an Office Located Outside the U.S.

Question 2

Bank A, NY branch solicits $120 thousand from Comp. A in the U.S. Bank A, NY branch transfers the $120 thousand to Bank A, Tokyo branch for the credit of Comp. A.

How should this transaction be reported?

Answer: The transaction is not reported on the FR 2900.

Accounting Codification Topic No. 825: Financial Instruments (Formerly FAS 159)

- FAS 159 (The Fair Value Option for Assets and Liabilities) allows entities to measure financial assets and liabilities at fair value
- FAS 159 should not be applied to liabilities reported on the FR 2900
- Deposits should be reported based on a depository institution's contractual liability to its counterparty, which includes accrued interest, regardless of whether a depository institution adopts FAS 159 for its financial statements.

Accounting Codification Topic No. 810: Consolidation (Formerly FAS 166/167)

- FAS 166 (Accounting for Transfers of Financial Assets –an amendment of FASB Statement No. 140) and FAS 167 (Amendments to FASB Interpretation No. 46(R)) were issued in June 2009
  - FAS 166 and 167 should not be applied to items reported on the FR 2900

Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP)

- In October 2008, the U.S. Treasury announced the implementation of the TARP
- Funds received by a BHC from the U.S. Treasury under the TARP are not deposits
- However, if the BHC deposits the funds at a subsidiary bank, they would be reported as a deposit based on the account agreement

Subscription Service

- A subscription service was created to notify institutions of reporting changes and seminar announcements as they are added to the Federal Reserve website
- To subscribe, please register at the link below:

- Precious metals borrowings

Deposits vs. Borrowings

- A deposit is defined by Regulation D as the unpaid balance of money or its equivalent received or held by a depository institution in the usual course of business.
- In economic terms, deposits and borrowings are similar. However, they are different transactions from a legal and regulatory perspective.

Deposits vs. Borrowings

- If a transaction is called a deposit it must be treated as a deposit, regardless of the counterparty as either transaction, savings, or time deposits.
- Three characteristics to consider for the type of deposit are:
  - The availability of funds
  - Maturity dates
  - The structure of the deposit

Deposits vs. Borrowings

- Whether a transaction is considered a borrowing depends on the terms of the transaction.
- If the document does not specifically refer to the transaction as a borrowing, it should be recorded as a deposit.

Primary Obligations

- Primary obligations are borrowings that should be reported as either:
  - Transaction accounts
  - Savings deposits
  - Time deposits

66

Primary Obligations

- There are two factors to consider when determining if a transaction or instrument is a “primary obligation”.
  - The type of entity with which the transaction is entered into; and
  - The nature of the transaction or instrument

Primary Obligations - Exempt and Non-Exempt Entities

- The concept of exempt and non-exempt entity applies only to primary obligations.
- A “deposit” is reservable regardless of the counterparty.

Include as Exempt Entities

  - U.S. commercial banks and trust depository companies and their subsidiaries
  - U.S. branches or agencies of foreign banks organized under Foreign (non-U.S.) law
  - Banking Edge and Agreement corporations
  - Industrial banks
  - Savings and loan associations and credit unions

Include as Exempt Entities

- Exempt entities also include:
  - Federal Reserve Banks
  - U.S. Government and its agencies
  - U.S. Treasury

Include as Non-exempt Entities

- The following are non-exempt entities:
  - Individuals, partnerships, and corporations (wherever located)
  - Securities brokers and dealers, wherever located (Except when the borrowing has a maturity of one day, is in immediately available funds, and is in connection with securities clearance)
  - State and local governments in the U.S. and their political subdivisions

Include as Non-exempt Entities

- The following are non-exempt entities:
  - A bank's holding company
  - A bank's non-bank subsidiaries
  - International Institutions (IBRD, IMF, etc.)
  - Non-U.S. banks (related or unrelated)

Examples of Primary Obligations

- The following are examples of primary obligations reportable on the FR 2900 if entered into with a non-exempt entity
  - Repurchase agreements collateralized with assets other than U.S. government or federal agency securities
  - Purchases of immediately available funds (federal funds)

Examples of Primary Obligations

- The following are examples of primary obligations reportable on the FR 2900 if entered into with a non-exempt entity:
  - Promissory notes
  - Commercial paper
  - Due bills

Repurchase Agreements

- A repurchase agreement is an arrangement involving the sale of a security or other asset under a prearranged agreement to buy back that asset at a fixed price
- If repurchase agreements with non-exempt entities are not collateralized by U.S. government or federal agency securities, they are to be reported on the FR 2900

FR 2900 vs. FFIEC 002/031/041 Definitional Differences

FR 2900

Repurchase agreements, collateralized with assets other than U.S. Government or Federal Agency securities, are reported as deposits on the FR 2900

FFIEC 002/031/041

Repurchase agreements, collateralized with assets other than U.S. Government or Federal Agency securities and with a maturity greater than one business day, are reported as borrowings

Federal Funds Purchased

- Federal funds are unsecured borrowings of immediately available funds
- Immediately available funds can be used or disposed of on the same business day the funds become available
- Federal funds purchased from non-exempt institutions are reportable on the FR 2900

Promissory Notes and Commercial Paper

- A promissory note is a negotiable instrument which is evidence of a liability of a depository institution for funds that have been received.
- If the promissory note is issued to a non-exempt entity it should be reported on the FR 2900

Promissory Notes and Commercial Paper

- Commercial paper is an unsecured promissory note and should be reported on the FR 2900.

Due Bills

- A due bill is an instrument evidencing the obligation of a seller to deliver securities at some future date.
- If the due bill is not collateralized within 3 business days, it becomes reservable on the fourth business day regardless of the purpose or counterparty.

Reporting of Primary Obligations

- Any primary obligation of the reporting institution due to a non-exempt entity must be reported unless all of the following conditions are met:
  - Is subordinated to the claims of the depositors
  - Has a weighted average maturity of five years or more
  - Is issued by a DI with the approval of, or under the rules and regulations of, its primary federal supervisor

Guidelines for Reporting Primary Obligations

* If the counterparty is a Securities Broker Dealer and the borrowing has a maturity of one day, is in immediately available funds, and is in connection with securities clearance, it is not considered a borrowing from a non exempt entity

Borrowings of “Cash Equivalents”

- For purpose of Regulation D the term deposit is defined as the unpaid balance of money or its “equivalent”.

Borrowings of “Cash Equivalents”

- Borrowings of U.S. Government or Agency security from non-exempt entities are reservable, if uncollateralized
  - If securities borrowings are collateralized with cash, the transaction is treated as a resale agreement, not a deposit

Borrowings of “Cash Equivalents”

- Borrowings of precious metals or other equivalents of money are to be reported on the FR 2900 in the same manner as other currency (e.g., U.S. dollars)
  - These are reported based on the counterparty and maturity

Borrowings of “Cash Equivalents”

- For example, borrowings of gold are considered reservable liabilities.
  - These are reported on the FR 2900, depending on the lender and the maturity.

Guidelines for Bona Fide Cash Management Agreements

- A bona fide cash management agreement exists when a depository institution:
  - Allows a depositor to use the balance in one deposit account to offset overdrafts in another deposit account
  - Some genuine cash management purpose is served

Guidelines for Bona Fide Cash Management Agreements

- A written agreement does not have to be in place to be “bona fide”
- The cash management agreement must have some indication the institution intends to use two or more checking accounts to control receipts and disbursements

Guidelines for Bona Fide Cash Management Agreements

Example 1

Establishing one account for receipts and another for disbursements would be considered bona fide.

Example 2

Establishing one account for payroll and another account for receipts and disbursements would not be considered bona fide.

Guidelines for Bona Fide Cash Management Agreements

Positive balances in one type of deposit account cannot be used to offset balances in another type of deposit account.

Example 3

An overdraft in a demand deposit account cannot be covered by positive balances in an MMDA account.

Escrow Accounts

- An escrow agreement is a written agreement authorizing funds to be held by a third party.
- The funds are placed with the depository institution until the agreement has been met, at which time the escrow funds are sent to the proper party.
- Escrow accounts are reported on the FR 2900 according to the terms of the escrow agreement.

Escrow Accounts

- If the funds may be withdrawn on demand or are to be disbursed within 7 days, the escrow account is a transaction account.

Trust Accounts

Trust funds are reportable if:

- Deposited by the trust department of the reporting institution in the commercial or other department of the reporting institution
- Deposited by the trust department of another DI in the commercial or other department of the reporting institution, or
- Commingled with the general assets of the reporting institution

Trust Accounts

- Negative balances of individual trust accounts must reflect a zero balance and should not be netted against positive balances from another trust account.

Trust Accounts

Exclude from reporting:

- Trust funds received by a DI or held separately from its general assets and not available for general investments or lending
- Institutions holding for safekeeping: bonds, stocks, jewelry, coin collections

Guidelines for Reporting Payment Errors on the FR 2900 Report

- Regardless of which party is responsible for the payment error, the holder of the funds at the close of business incurs a reservable liability that should be reflected on the FR 2900
- The sending institution does not report payment errors in:
  - B.1 (Due From) since the institution no longer has immediate access to the funds, since they were transferred in error to another institution
  - B.2 (Cash Item in Process of Collection) since these are not checks or drafts that will be credited to the institution once cleared

Guidelines for Reporting Payment Errors on the FR 2900 Report

- This treatment ensures reserve requirements and money stock on an aggregate level are unaffected by payment errors
- This treatment is applied regardless of the application of as-of adjustments or the payment of compensation from the other depository institution

Types of Payment Errors

Four types of payment errors:

1. Duplicate payment

- Occurs when the sending institution transfers funds more than once
- The receiving institution reports these funds as a demand deposit until the duplicate payment is returned
- The sending institution should not report the duplicate payment either as a due from or CIPC

Types of Payment Errors

Example of a Duplicate Payment Error:

- Bank R is expecting a $10 million funds transfer from Bank S. Bank S wires the $10 million to Bank R at 12:00 PM. At 12:30 PM Bank S wires another $10 million without realizing that the 12:00 PM transfer was sent.
- Bank R reports the $10 million received in error in addition to the $10 million it received as a demand deposit in Line A.1.c. Bank S does not report the $10 million sent in error as either a due from Bank R (Line B.1) or CIPC (Line B.2).

Types of Payment Errors

2. Misdirected payment

- Occurs when the sending institution transfers funds to the wrong bank
- The receiving institution reports these funds as a demand deposit until the funds are returned
- The sending institution should not report these funds either as a due from or CIPC
- The institution that did not receive the expected funds does not report these funds as a due from or CIPC

Types of Payment Errors.

Example of a Misdirected Payment:

- Bank S is instructed to send a $50 million funds transfer to Bank R. However, due to an error the funds were accidentally sent to Bank A.
- Bank A reports the $50 million as a demand deposit in Line A.1.c. Neither Bank S nor Bank R should report these funds as a due from Bank A (Line B.1) or CIPC (Line B.2).

Types of Payment Errors

3. Failed payment

- Occurs when an institution fails to make payment requested by a customer because of system problems, clerical errors, or other problems
- The institution that retained the funds must report them as a demand deposit until the funds are disbursed
- The institution that did not receive the expected funds does not report these funds either as a due from or CIPC

Types of Payment Errors

Example of a Failed Payment:

- Bank S was requested to make a payment of $20 million to Bank R. Before the transfer is executed, Bank S experiences a power failure and the funds could not be transferred until the next day. (On day 2 the funds were transferred to Bank R).
- Bank S reports the $20 million as a demand deposit on Line A.1.c. Bank R does not report these funds as either a due from Bank S (Line B.1) or CIPC (Line B.2).

Types of Payment Errors

4. Improper payment

- Occurs when a third party payment is made through Fedwire usually between the hours of 6:00 PM and 6:30 PM (known as the settlement period) when only “settlement transfers” are allowed
- The receiving bank reports these funds as a demand deposit
- The sending bank does not report these funds either as a due from or CIPC

Types of Payment Errors

Example of an Improper Payment:

- Bank S transfers $15 million on behalf of a corporate customer to Bank R at 6:15 PM.
- Bank R reports the $15 million as a demand deposit in Line A.1.c. Bank S does not report these funds as either a due from Bank R (Line B.1) or CIPC (Line B.2).
